

PART OF SLAIN WOMAN'S BODY STOLEN IN BOSTON

Organs of Mrs. Small Vanish on Way to Chemist to be Analyzed.

BOSTON, Oct. 4.—A bag containing the organs and part of the body of Mrs. Arlene Curry Small, for whose murder at Mountain View, N. H., last Thursday, her husband is held, was stolen from B. Frank Horne, medical referee of the district where she was slain, in the North Station here. A reward of $1,000 for the return of the bag and contents is offered by the State of New Hampshire. It was expected a chemical analysis might have proved Mrs. Small was attacked before being murdered. Attorney General Tuttle of New Hampshire, however, denies that the loss of the bag will affect the State's case. It is believed the thief followed Mr. Horne here from New Hampshire. The bag was to have been delivered to Dartmouth College. Mr. Horne laid it on a bench for a moment, and when he turned to pick it up it was gone.

NEW GUARDIAN FIGHTS BIG CLAIMS AGAINST 'POOR LITTLE RICH BOY'

Lee Wants $13,291 for 13 Months' Guardianship and Lawyers Ask $54,637.

Another long legal battle is promised in the Westchester County Courts in connection with the guardianship of William Croswell Lee, twelve years old, the "Poor Little Rich Boy" of White Plains, because of the legal bills and expense accounts filed with Surrogate Sawyer yesterday against the boy's estate.

Strang & Taylor, counsel for Thomas Frederick Lee, stepfather of the boy, who is heir to an estate worth nearly $2,000,000, filed a claim for $40,000 for legal fees in representing Mr. Lee and his mother, Mrs. Emma Kenyon Lee, in the suits that have enveloped the boy for a year, owing to the efforts of William Mills Jr., his father, to get possession of him.

Mr. Lee, who was guardian of the boy until June 29 last, when Surrogate Sawyer appointed De Witt H. Lyon, of Port Chester, his general guardian, after many legal bouts, during which Mr. Lee was accused of kidnapping the boy, submitted a bill for $13,291.09 for his expenses from May 18, 1915, to June 29, 1916.

Among the items Mr. Lee charges are $5,500 for household expenses in maintaining the boy in his home, and $2,510.77 for trips to New York theatre, for detectives in habeas corpus proceedings, expenses of the trials, maintaining an automobile, trips to the Adirondacks and the Berkshires, and money paid to lawyers.

John Lindley, counsel for Herman Croswell, uncle of William, filed a claim for $14,937 fees and expenses in the guardianship proceedings. Thomas C. Holden, attorney for General Guardian Lyon, announced that he will file objections to the bills, and Surrogate Sawyer may have to send the matter to a referee.

COURT JUSTIFIES CORONER.

Dismisses Damage Suit of the Rev. Dr. Ross's Widow.
Supreme Court Justice Clark yes.

terday dismissed a $50,000 damage suit brought by Mrs. Agnes Ross, an executrix of the estate of the Rev. Dr. James Ross, pastor of St. Andrew's Congregational Church of London, Ont., who was killed by an automobile here, Nov. 18, 1915. The defendant was Leon T. Stowe, an undertaker. Justice Clark ruled that the minister was partly negligent, while the undertaker was not. The case attracted Mayor Mitchell's attention in the examination of the coroner's office. Criticizing the conduct of the case by Coroner Hollenstein, Commissioner of Accidents, Wallstein asserted in his report that the coroner showed "intentional laxity" in calling Stowe a chauffeur when he knew he was an undertaker, and exonerating him.

MORTEN AIDS CHARITIES.

Six to Get Much of Liquor Dealer's Estate After Widow Dies.

Alexander Morten, President of Morten & Co., wholesale liquor dealers at No. 77 Broadway, died last night of a heart attack, leaving a large part of his estate, having a total value of about $500,000, shall go eventually to six charitable and religious organizations. The will was filed for probate yesterday in the Surrogate's Court.

Mrs. Marjorie Morten, the widow, as principal legatee, will receive the income of the real estate for life, but in the event of remarriage she is to receive an annuity of $5,000, and the balance of the income is to be divided among six associations. These institutions also are to receive the principal of the estate on Mrs. Morten's death. Each of the bequests, the will states, will amount to at least $50,000.

LIFTS CITY WORKERS' PAY.

The Board of Estimate has ordered its budget sub-committee to increase by $60 a year the salaries of all city employees receiving less than $1,200, providing the heads of departments request the increase. Inspectors receiving less than $1,400 will also receive the increase. Though the raise, which is granted because of the high cost of living, will not affect employees whose salaries are increased automatically, the total probably will reach $250,000 a year.

Absorbs the Countryside.
The Independent announces that it has purchased from the Suburban Press the Countryside Magazine. Less than six months ago the Independent absorbed Harper's Weekly, which had been in existence fifty-nine years. The Countryside Magazine was founded twelve years ago. Karl V. S. Howland, publisher of the Independent, will in addition devote his attention to the active business management of the Countryside Magazine.

The May Manton Fashions

JUST such a top coat as this will be found necessary for winter comfort. It is loose and ample, the collar can be worn high or low and, consequently, it is available for the motor car as well as it is for the street. The two narrow belts that are buttoned into place make a novel and a pretty feature, but are not necessary, for the loose coat can be worn without. There are a great many materials that are appropriate, but nothing is more fashionable than the velvet style. Waxed and finished with velour illustrated. Here it is finished with stitched edges, but many women will like to trim the collar and cuffs with fur and to use fur buttons, that treatment being exceedingly smart as well as handsome. If liked, fur also can be used as a band around the lower edge and it can be put on the collar and on the pockets, for there seems no limit to the way in which fur will be used this season. Handling of all widths is fashionable and there are many possibilities to be found. Burella cloth makes a serviceable coat of a slightly heavier weight than the velour and chinchilla cloth is being extensively used, and there are a great many fur cloths that are handsome and fashionable while they mean real warmth and real service. The coat is a very simple one, so easy to make great many alterations can be undertaken. It is without hesitancy, for there are only the loose in-line lines and folds. The sleeves are of comfortable size with the deep cuffs. They are much liked this season. For a different effect than the one illustrated, the collar and the cuffs can be made of fur cloth. For the medium size will be needed 4 1/2 yards of material 36 inches wide, 5 yards 44 1/2 inches wide. The May Manton pattern No. 9227 is cut in sizes from 34 to 44 inches bust measure. No. 9227 (with busting line and added seam allowance). LOOSE COAT, 34 to 44 bust.
